

Space & Loneliness

Is Space and Loneliness the same thing; Space as in time versus Loneliness as a state of mind.

Why is it that we relish Space, but Loneliness we despise. Do they not both require being separate from ourselves and kind.

If the choice was yours, which would you choose, one the other or both, if your so incline.

I am (I a master) being self-determine would chose both, they are one in my mind eye.

Deep mediation requires being alone to reach your astral space. My Spiritual Flight requires out of body experience through the cosmic third eye.

So are we alone in this evolving Universal Space; I am (I a master) think that's not the case at all. For our Guardian Angel's which watch over us as designated by the All in All.

Our Space is Spirituality and our Loneliness is our primordial Soul.

We must embrace both; It make us in the likeness of the All in All Whole.
